Lyndsey Haskell

TDC has worked with Lyndsey over the years, engaging her in multiple projects, principally in social media, photography and creating case studies, blogs, and other media.

TDC's work with communities is at the heart of everything we do, and Lyndsey has been able to capture this in both her imagery and her writing. This has helped us raise awareness of the breadth of our work within communities.

Lyndsey's use of different mediums, social media, blogs, photos, and writing has enabled TDC to reach new audiences as well as engage better with existing ones.

Lyndsey has been brilliant to work with. She has supported many of the staff and community groups in their communications, providing useful tools and guides and how to take good photos at an event or write an impactful story, giving them the tools to create their own communications.

She has the ability make people comfortable and relaxed, even in community settings and activities where people are initially anxious about being recorded. She has always been flexible and consequently has been able to work around Community groups needs and timings.

Her patience in altering and updating accurate information last minute as plans change and her attention to detail in keeping details and posts up to date on the website has also been hugely appreciated.

As well at being skilled in what she does she is creative, reliable, flexible, professional and a lovely person. We would not hesitate to work with her again and recommend her to others.
