

Lyndsey Haskell

Emmaus Brighton & Hove commissioned Lyndsey to produce a volume of Community portraits in 2015 for use online and in print.

Lyndsey was our first choice for this project as it is important that we work with people that can understand our Community and us.

Lyndsey had previously volunteered and worked here at Emmaus, which gave me the opportunity to observe the natural way that she interacts with people putting them at ease. Lyndsey is a talented photographer with an eye for great composition.

Emmaus Brighton & Hove is an organisation that is all about the people and Lyndsey's style managed to capture and illustrate how amazing and individual we all are.

I would happily commission Lyndsey for work in the future both here at Emmaus and for other organisations.

Yours sincerely
